Young innovator competition by InnoHEALTH

Young innovator competition was conducted by InnoHEALTH for SAKEC students. In this competition interested students have to come up with ideas or products for the health sector.

This event was held in the Leela Ambience ,Gurgoan in which two teams from our college participated . It was conducted on 15 September 2018.

The participants of our college really came up with some good ideas and products which were definitely helpful in the medical sector.

InnoHEALTH really came up with good competition which made our students to think about various products they can make for development of the Health sector.
